

SENT BACK TO A CELL.

Dr. Buchanan Remanded Until Thursday by Judge Martine.

The Alleged Wife-Poisoner to Have a Preliminary Hearing Then.

More Evidence Against Him Obtained by "World" Reporters.

Dr. Robert W. Buchanan, under arrest for causing the death of his second wife, Anna, by administering poison, was taken into Part I. of the Court of General Sessions before Judge Martine, at 11.30 o'clock this morning for arraignment. The arrest of Dr. Buchanan was made on evidence discovered by "The World." The prisoner was in custody of Detective Sergeant Armstrong and Arthur Carey, of the Central Office, and he was escorted to occupy a seat beside his counsel, Lawyers Charles W. Brooke and Charles E. Davidson.

DR. R. W. BUCHANAN.

His eyes were lustreless from apparent lack of sleep, and the corners of his mouth were drawn in an effort to conceal his agitation. It was plain the defendant regarded his position as one of great peril. In view of the published facts in the case, which had been unearthed by "World" reporters.

Lawyer Brooke at once moved to dismiss the complaint on the ground that the information upon which the warrant was based was insufficient and rested only on the affidavit of the District Attorney.

Judge Martine denied the motion. Then Lawyer Brooke requested that the District Attorney be compelled to file a record of all affidavits and depositions in his possession, and from which his information against Buchanan is derived. Judge Martine refused to do so.

"In behalf of the defendant, then," said Lawyer Brooke, "I now demand an examination before Your Honor, who, as a magistrate, issued the warrant for arrest."

Judge Martine explained that he could not conveniently conduct an examination to-day, but would designate any date hereafter that would suit the defendant. Lawyer Brooke asked Judge Martine himself to select a day, and he designated Friday next at 2 o'clock as the time.

Mr. Brooke then requested that the Court direct that the defendant be remanded to Police Headquarters as a precautionary measure, so that he would be easier of access to counsel and friends. Judge Martine acquiesced and Detective Sergeant Armstrong and Carey escorted Dr. Buchanan back to Headquarters.

A deposition by R. W. Macomber, a business man of this city, who had been an intimate friend of Buchanan, was taken by "The World" investigators for the District Attorney, who has it now in his possession. It is quite long, and among other things refers to the frequent utterances of Buchanan of "reluctance" and "anxiety" to "do a bag of a wife" for threatening to resume her occupation as the keeper of a disorderly house in Newark. It also alludes to the presence of various persons to his wife's moribund home, to his statements that she died of an overdose of morphine, and his remarks to Macomber about selling the house to a foreign country after "The World" had begun to investigate the death of his wife.

CAMPBELL STILL FOR CLEVELAND

He Eays Sheehan and Murphy Failed to Convince Him.

A statement was published this morning that Ex-Gov. James E. Campbell, of Ohio, had, after a talk with Lieut. Gov. Sheehan and Edward Murphy, become a convert to the belief that Grover Cleveland could not carry the State of New York in the event of a nomination.

Gov. Campbell, who is stopping at the Hoffman House, was seen this morning by an Evening World reporter, and said, with reference to this rumor:

"There is not a particle of truth in it. It is all bosh. I suppose it got about in this way: Lieut. Gov. Sheehan, Edward Murphy, State Treasurer Baskett and several other gentlemen and I were taking breakfast together at the Hoffman House restaurant, and naturally the conversation was almost entirely of a political nature."

"They tried to prove to me that Cleveland would not be able to carry the State of New York. They employed a great many arguments; but the upshot of it all was that they by no means convinced me, and I am still entirely for Cleveland."

"My business here just now is not of a political nature and I will return home tomorrow."

EMIN PASHA'S DEATH.

Reports of the Event Said to Be Confirmed in Berlin.

BERLIN, June 8.—The Tageblatt to-day confirms the recent rumors of the death in the interior of Africa of Emin Pasha. It is true that Emin is dead the natural supposition is that he has fallen a victim to small-pox, from which disease reports in April said he was suffering.

Capt. Beatty's Successor Not Named. The Park Board to-day postponed the appointment of a successor to the late Capt. Beatty, of the Park Police, until the board receives from the Civil-Service Board the list of sergeants eligible for promotion.

GERRY AGENTS AT BAR

Becker and Finn Called to Trial To-Day for Blackmail.

They Are the Men Capt. Cross Trapped with Marked Money.

Mrs. Sophie Martens Claims They Demanded $500 from Her.

The trial of Edward J. Becker and William A. Finn, the Gerry Society agents who are accused of blackmail in extorting $500 from Sophie Martens, the sister of an alleged disordered house at 86 Allen street, was begun to-day before Judge Fitzgerald in Part II. of the Court of General Sessions. The technical charge against the prisoners is compounding a misdemeanor.

BECKER AND FINN.

Becker was the oldest agent of the Society and son-in-law of the Superintendent. He is reported to have accumulated considerable real estate, although his salary was only $1,000 a year.

Becker and Finn were the agents of the Gerry Society, stationed at Essex Market Court. They had raffish the report at Allen street, kept by Sophie Martens, and on their evidence Miss Martens was held for keeping a disorderly house and for selling beer without a license.

The story of the prosecution is that the woman went to Capt. Cross, of the Fourth Street Police Station, and told him that Agent Finn had called on her and promised, for $500, to "set her off." Finn told her, she said, to bring the money with her and meet him on the night of April 28, at Twenty-fourth street and Second avenue.

Upon Capt. Cross's advice the woman took the money to the station-house that night, and, in the presence of Miss Martens and Detective George Smith, Capt. Cross marked the bills and tied them securely in a roll with a bit of white cord.

He told her to pay the money only in the street, and it was arranged that she was to sign Capt. Cross and Detective Smith by dropping her handkerchief when the money was paid.

She followed instructions and getting off at Second avenue car at Twenty-third street met Becker. Capt. Cross and Detective Smith, who were on the opposite side of the avenue, saw the man motion to her. She followed him up the avenue and walked a few yards in the direction of the car, as the street where Finn stood behind a truck. A moment later the watchers saw the handkerchief fall.

Detective Smith started at once towards the woman, who saw him and ran towards the car. He followed her, but the money was not found on him. Capt. Cross, however, found the roll of marked bills lying in the gutter under a truck, within twenty feet of the car.

The prisoners were picked up in the Twenty-third street station. They admitted that they had met Miss Martens by appointment, but said they were innocent of any attempt to levy blackmail.

"There were few spectators in court when the trial began, but the case attracted a large number of people. Becker and Finn were represented by Lawyer William Travers Jerome. The case for the State was in charge of Assistant District Attorney Weeks.

John H. Rogers, of 228 West Forty-fourth street, was called as foreman of the jury, being the first chosen.

restive under the restraint which their pledges or instructions imposed upon them, and who will satisfy their scruples if they cast their vote for Harrison on the first ballot.

The Blaine managers, it is said, are working with a view of inducing a sufficient number of these disaffected Harrison delegates to absent themselves from the roll-call on the first ballot to prevent Harrison from getting the nomination. If they can succeed in this they feel sure that the field will be clear for Blaine on the second ballot.

Naturally none of the anti-Harrison leaders will admit the truth of this story. Nevertheless, the feeling is gaining ground that some such scheme is being worked.

The anti-Harrison minority work is being pushed forward by Henry G. Burleigh, Senator from New York, and others, and last evening a raid was made on the Minnesota delegation. Fervid speeches were made by those gentlemen, picturing in vivid language the risk which the party would run of losing New York with Harrison, while with Blaine it was absolutely safe.

A. A. Day, one of the anti-Harrison delegates at large, replied in a somewhat sarcastic vein and a hot discussion followed, in which the Minnesota men made it rather plain that they resented the intrusion of the New York delegates, who retired somewhat crestfallen.

The corridor of the West Hotel has lately been comparatively quiet. Last evening the Harrison rosters gathered in force in the rooms of the Indiana delegation, and attracted a large crowd by singing some of the Harrison songs recently imported by the Columbia Club of Indianapolis. Col. Elliott F. Shepard, who was wandering about the corridors, was attracted by the music and went in and joined the singers. "It looks very Harrisonian to-night," he remarked in a jocular tone to THE EVENING WORLD correspondent.

Mr. Thomas and Mr. Hepp were at first also counted for Harrison, but the claim was subsequently withdrawn.

The claim of the New York Harrison men that they polled thirty votes in the delegation for Harrison is absolutely and unquestionably denied by Mr. Platt, who authorized the following personal interview:

"The claim that is made as to the conference of the New York supporters of Harrison is without foundation in fact. At this conference there were present by actual count 27 persons, of whom several were counted in this estimate of Mr. Harrison's strength who were not members of the delegation. Ex-Senator Sloan was one, and there were others, all of whom were counted."

"Gen. Husted was stated to have been present. Everybody knows Gen. Husted has been confined to his room for several days, seriously sick, and will not be out for days. His absence is a high indignation that way was not asked into the council chamber."

Mr. Moore, the other man who is given in the Harrison list, made public to-night that he has been making speeches for Blaine. Goodale and Waters are at present disposed to vote for some new candidate.

The Foreign Relations Sub-Committee took up as leading topics (Canada, discrimination against American shipping, the Nicaragua Canal and United States control of the Isthmus of Panama.)

An important matter before the Committee on Miscellaneous was a World's Fair plan, prepared by Senator Culom and presented by Joe Cannon.

M. H. Bates succeeded in getting a satisfactory hearing for the Nicaragua Canal before the Foreign Affairs sub-committee. Col. Isaac Trumbo, President of the Executive Committee of the National Silver Conference, was sent for to ascertain if he would not be content with a mild compromise as to silver, when they were discussing the question that way was not asked into the council chamber."

Some of the elements for control time, both sides are making a determined fight to capture the whole of the delegates in dispute.

The Blaine people claim that they have everything to gain by a postponement of the meeting, and have apparently accomplished their purpose, twice securing the postponement of definite action by the Committee on Credentials.

The committee is making slow progress with its work. There seems to be no special haste in proceeding with the contested cases. Outside the National Committee rooms is thronged with men who want to know whether they will have seats in the convention or not.

A poll of the committee would indicate that the Blaine men are in the majority and control affairs, though the Chairman selected is Gen. Cogswell, of Massachusetts, reputed to be a staunch Harrison man.

After getting organized yesterday the Committee immediately adjourned.

Gov. Warmoth, of Louisiana, and his followers from Louisiana and the Lynch faction from Mississippi, both of which delegations were left off the temporary roll, were present in some force, as well as also some of the other interested parties.

The Committee reassembled at 4 p. m., but the only thing was a decision to adjourn again to meet at the National Committee headquarters to-morrow.

At 8 o'clock the committee assembled, but at 10 o'clock the first contest had not yet been taken up, and all that had been accomplished was to make up the roll of delegates in uncontested districts.

The probabilities are that, with a possible exception or two, the decision of the National Committee in the contests will be affirmed in the Committee on Credentials.

Elkins Says Blaine Won't Run. (BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

MINNEAPOLIS, June 8.—A good deal of a sensation was caused this morning by a despatch from Washington, which reported Secretary Elkins as having said:

"I know that Blaine will decline the nomination. I know that his name will not be presented to the Convention."

Secretary Foster, to whom Mr. Elkins was reported to have made the statement, is quoted as having replied:

"Why, that means Harrison's nomination by acclamation."

"That's it, that's it," replied the War Secretary.

The known intimate relations between Mr. Elkins and Mr. Blaine cause much credence to be placed in the statement by delegates who favor the President.

"Blocks of Five" Suggested. (BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

MINNEAPOLIS, June 8.—A great deal of discussion has been caused here to-day by the publication of the following opening letter to Gen. Michener, one of the Indiana Harrison managers, from Judge David Louden, of Shelbyville, Ind.:

SHREVEPORT, La., June 7, 1892.

My Dear Sir: The only chance I see for you is to get a block of five votes.

There is no likelihood that it will complete the work of the Convention. The Harrison plank of four years ago on "Pro Suffrage" was introduced and referred to the sub-committees without reading.

The Tariff Sub-Committee, oddly enough, received the smaller quota. The silver group
